DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's amendment filed on 8/19/09 was entered.

Amended claims 1, 3-4, 11, 14, 16-17, 24 and new claims 29-42 are pending in the present application. In light of the addition of new claims, particularly composition claims specifically recite non-viral vector, viral vector and adenovirus with a RSV promoter; the following species restriction is required.

Species election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

(a) a non-viral vector; (b) adeno-associated virus; (c) a retrovirus; (d) a herpesvirus; (e) a herpes simplex virus; (f) a lentivirus; (g) a Sendai virus; (h) a poxvirus; (i) a poliovirus; a symbis virus; (j) a vaccinia virus; (k) an adenovirus.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

A drug for treating a heart disease characterized by cardiac hypertrophy or tachycardia comprising an expression vector containing a CD9 gene, wherein the expression vector is a viral vector or a non-viral vector; and a method for treating a heart disease using the same.

The following claim(s) are generic: at least independent claims 1 and 14.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Each of the aforementioned species is different structurally and has different properties one from the others. Therefore, each different structure can be considered to be a "special technical feature"; and therefore the listed species lack the same or corresponding special technical features.
